MICHIGAN

Foreword

O all my fine customers I wish to take this opportunity to thank you for your orders the past season. I hope you have all had great pleasure from the varieties you purchased, and know you still treasure the memory of their beauty.

We are now located on our new farm, where we have the facilities to grow the finest bulbs, with plenty of room to rotate, on high sandy loam soil. The Belle river which runs through our farm will furnish a continuous supply of water for irrigation. We have a new large storage where we can store up to 5 million bulbs.

Due to the problems and work entailed in moving our stocks and equipment 50 miles this year, we were unable to attend as many shows as in the past years, but we did show at some of the shows in Michigan where we did quite well, having 2 Reserve Champions, namely Spic and Span and Sunspot, two very fine glads. We won Recent Introduction Sweepstakes and quite a few section Champions and many Blue Ribbons. Blue Lagoon continued its winning ways, as did Klondike, Poinciana, and Chief Pontiac.

We wish to state at this time that due to the high cost of printing, etc., our catalog is sent for no more than 3 years to those who request it. If we have an order from you during this period you will continue to receive it without a new request. If we do not have an order though, we must of necessity drop your name from our files unless a new request is made. Catalog costs average at least $1.00 for every order we receive so you can see we cannot continue to send them out to those not interested enough to purchase, since this cost must be passed on to the purchaser of bulbs. Just a small order will continue your name for future catalogs.

I wish to thank particularly all those who have written me nice letters the past year, regarding the quality of our stock and of the fine blooms they had. This is one of the most enjoyable parts of our business, and I am sorry that I could not answer all of them personally this year.

Our varieties listed are carefully selected to give you the ultimate in color and bloom. Our motto has been and still is:

"The Finest Bulbs of the Finest Varieties."

Thank you,

G. V. SNYDER.

At harvest time the largest bulbs, greatest number of bulblets and cleanest stock was from plantings of your bulbs. It is indeed a pleasure, in these days of indifference, to find one who continues to give attention to those details that raise a product above the commonplace. I refer to the packing of your shipment, the quality and size of the bulbs supplied and the evidence of proper cultural practices.

Regarding Blooming Dates

Every year we have customers write regarding blooming dates of their glads. We have attempted to give you this, following the name of each variety. However, these dates are only approximate and cannot be determined exactly as weather conditions have a lot to do with them. Cold late spring weather will hold back some and they will not bloom as early as some planted later after the ground has warmed thoroughly and continues warm thereafter. We have had glads that, planted in the first part of May, would normally bloom in 70 days, but planted later in moist warm ground with excellent growing conditions bloomed in 53 days. Hence we try to give you the date for normal weather. Varieties marked Early normally bloom in 70 to 75 days; Early Mid-Season, 75 to 80 days; Mid-Season, 85 to 90 days; Late Mid-Season, 90 to 100 days, and Late, over 100 days.

Remember . . .

Early orders always get the "Cream of the Crop" and you are sure to get the varieties and size you want. We always run out of some varieties and sizes later on, so order early and be sure.

I wish to inform you how beautiful were the gladiolus blooms from the bulbs purchased from you. Every one more beautiful than the other. I surely am well satisfied and pleased and have enjoyed the blooms both outdoors in my garden and then when cut and brought into my home. I kept them to every top flower. I wanted to let you know I am a well satisfied customer and am looking forward to next year and the lovely gladiolus.

Australian Varieties

This year we have grouped together under one heading all Australian and New Zealand varieties. With a few exceptions these are all 1946 to 1949 U.S.A. releases. Stocks of some are very small and first orders will probably deplete stock, so order early if these are wanted.

How to Grow Gladiolus

Gladiolus are one of the easiest flowers to grow. Ordinarily good gardening practices will reward you with fine blooms. The newer varieties are a far cry from the old gladiolus that your Dad and Mother grew. The thrips that many times kept glads from blooming have been licked by D.D.T. and with little effort you can have a gorgeous garden of glads. The following cultural hints should be found helpful.

WHEN RECEIVED. Open package at once to admit air. Store in a dry, cool cellar.

WHEN TO PLANT. Plant when the trees native to your locality are leafing out. Here in Michigan I start planting the first week in May, and finish up about the 20th of June. For maximum results plant some time in May. Do not plant too early.

WHERE TO PLANT. The ideal place to plant is a garden full of sun, where there are no trees, shrubs or anything to take the moisture from the ground. If planted in beds or in the borders, be careful not to plant them too close to strong growing plants.

KIND OF SOIL. Glads will grow in most any kind of soil from light sand to heavy clay, but a sandy loam is the best. Be sure there is good drainage. Glads like lots of water, but will not stand wet feet. They do not like lime.

DISINFECTING. We advocate disinfecting bulbs before planting even though they appear free of insects and disease. An easy inexpensive dip which is as effective as any known today is Lysol. Soaking bulbs in a weak solution of Lysol (4 teaspoons to 1 gallon of water) for 3 hours has been found effective against thrips and bulb diseases. Caution: Bulbs must be planted immediately after soaking and soil must be moist. If not possible to plant immediately rinse bulbs thoroughly in clear water to remove Lysol and lay out to dry. When again ready to plant dip in solution again for one minute and plant immediately.

PREPARATION OF SOIL. Unless your soil is very good it is a good plan to manure it well in the fall using cow or hog manure, plowing it under in the fall. Do not use hen or horse manure unless thoroughly decomposed. Pulverize the soil well before planting to a depth of 6 inches preferably. Use no manures of any kind in the spring unless thoroughly decomposed.

DISTANCE APART. You may plant bulbs 2 or 3 inches apart and 2 bulbs wide in row if you desire, 3 or 4 inches apart for better results.

DEPTH TO PLANT. Plant from 3 to 6 inches deep. Sandy soil requires deeper planting than clay soils. Small bulbs should not be over 3 inches deep.

HOW TO PLANT. Place the bulbs in the trench and cover with soil. Some people sprinkle a light application of commercial fertilizer on the partly covered row before leveling off.

CULTIVATING. Work the ground well all summer. Loosen it well after heavy rains and keep a good dust mulch during dry weather. Cultivate shallowly when the roots begin to spread.

CUTTING. The gladiolus is essentially a cut flower. Leave as many leaves as possible; at least 4 or 5. Cut on the slant and when the first flower is beginning to open. Your bulbs will mature better if the flowers are cut.

WATERING. During hot dry spells a thorough watering once a week will give gratifying results. Watering just before blooming will give better flowers. Cultivate soil as soon as possible after watering.

FERTILIZING. Glads do not require lots of fertilizer though they will respond gratefully to moderate applications during the growing season. A handful to about 15 feet of row and worked in the soil well is enough. Two or three light applications before blooming is enough. Before rains is the best time, otherwise water well after fertilizing. Any commercial fertilizer is recommended. Fertilizers richer in Potash and Phosphoric Acid than in Nitrogen are recommended. Do not let the fertilizer touch the plants or roots.

SPRAYING. Thrips are the gladiolus' worst enemy. The thrip is a small black insect about the size of a pencil mark and one-sixteenth inch long. The immature are small and yellowish. They cause small silvery patches on the foliage and flowers. If they are bad the buds do not open, turning to a dull brown. The first preventive against the thrip is to disinfect the bulbs as mentioned above, before planting. If the thrips still persist, spraying or dusting must be done. The new dusts and sprays containing 5% D.D.T. obtainable wherever general dust and spray materials are sold are most effective. Dust or spray containing other materials in conjunction with the D.D.T. (such as rotenone, derris, etc.) are as good or better than only D.D.T., but be sure they have at least 5% D.D.T. Dusting when plants are about 1 foot high and continuing at two week intervals or after rain will guarantee perfect blooms.

DIGGING. Don't leave part of stem on bulb. Cut as close to bulb as possible. Do not pile too deep in your box. Dry the bulb as quickly as possible thus preventing diseases. Do not leave the old bulbs and roots on all winter as these harbor diseases. Clean bulbs as soon as old bulb separates easily. This is usually about three weeks. Dusting bulbs immediately after digging with a light application of 5% D.D.T. dust, and another light application after cleaning and before storing will assure you of thrip free bulbs until planting time. One or two thrips brought in on your bulbs, if allowed to overwinter on them can, with their offspring, take most of the life out of the bulb.

STORING. Keep in as cool and dry a place as possible, free from frost.

For example, the classification number of Algonquin is 536. The 500 means that its floret size is 5½ inches or larger and the 36 indicates it is a scarlet. Hence the numbers in parenthesis listed right after the variety name tell the size and color of the individual floret as grown from large bulbs.

Variety Color Classes

All the varieties that we list are grouped under their separate color classes on this page, each carries the classification number in parenthesis. We hope this will make it easier for you to make your color selections.

Sprays - Dust - Labels, etc.

Many of our customers have written us, regarding the availability of D.D.T. dusts and sprays, as in many places they have not been able to purchase them. This year we are making them available through our catalog.

5% D.D.T. Dust

5 lb. pkg.	$1.10	50 lb. bag	$5.50
(Postpaid with bulb order)		(F.O.B., Richmond)
10 lb. pkg.	1.85	100 lb. bag	9.75
(Postpaid with bulb order)		(F.O.B., Richmond)

This year the Florida Agricultural Experiment Station at Bradenton, Florida conducted tests with a new dust and spray called Chlordane. This was found to be better than D.D.T. at odds of 19 to 1. Twice as many blooms showed no sign of thrips injury when Chlordane was used over the D.D.T.

The cost of this is a little more than D.D.T. but the chances are that much less will be needed to control than with D.D.T.

5% Chlordane Dust

12 oz. Puffer Guns	$.85	5 lb. pkg.	$ 2.25
(Postpaid with bulb order)		(Postpaid)
2 lb. pkg.	1.00	50 lb. bag	10.25

Chlordane 50% Wettable Powder

This is to be used as a water spray the same concentration as 50% D.D.T., or at the rate of 2 lbs. to 100 gallons water or 1 oz. to 3 gallons.

1 lb. bag	$1.75	5 lb. bag	$ 8.00
(Postpaid with bulb order)		(Postpaid)
2 lb. bag	3.25	50 lb. bag	47.00

Lexone

This is a new treatment for the elimination of wire worms in the soil. It is used at the rate of 10 lbs. to the acre either as a dust or mixed with water using 5 lbs. to 100 gallons of water, and sprayed or dusted on the ground and cultivated in before planting. This material has a very pungent musty odor and should not be used where vegetables are to be grown the same year as they will pick it up. It also eliminates nematodes.
